Benny Frandsen, founder of FRANDSEN GROUP

FRANDSEN

It all started back in 1968 as a modest business in the basement of his own home, where Benny Frandsen began designing lamps. One of Frandsen's first round lamps was the Ball series he created in 1969. The design was simple and functional, and Ball went on to become a design classic found in thousands of homes.

At Frandsen Lighting, we design and produce our lamps ourselves, so we are sure they live up to our own exacting standards. We use the best materials we can find, because we are convinced that good design deserves to last.

Well-designed lamps are both timeless and contemporary. When form and function come together just right, the design lasts for decades. At Frandsen Lighting we update our collection regularly, so we are always ready to meet the needs of our discerning consumers – with lasting quality and good taste.

The FRANDSEN GROUP has interpreted the best of Scandinavian lighting aesthetics since 1968. Their assortment also includes lamps, furniture and accessories by Verner Panton, one of Danish Design's most iconoclastic visionaries.
